

SCHOOL ASTRONAUT VISITS 2009

Students enjoying Astronaut Dr James Reilly's visit to Bakewell Primary school Darwin.

Wow what an amazing day at Bakewell Primary on Monday 20th August 2009. 15 classes were able to meet Astronaut Dr James Reilly and ask him questions about his latest space mission aboard space shuttle STS-117. All classes have been studying aspects of space throughout the year in anticipation of his visit. It was obvious by the buzz in the air and the look on the students faces that they were very excited having a 'real' astronaut at their school.

Students from the Hunter School of Performing Arts Broadmeadow being attentive during Astronaut Dr James Reilly's recent visit to their school.

Outstanding science students from The Hills Sports High School Seven Hills, being presented with their awards to attend the Australian International Space School 2010.

Over 1000 students from St Edwards College East Gosford and East Gosford Primary schools gaining knowledge about the exciting world of space during Dr Reilly's visit.

Excited Goulburn Island students sharing their wonderful cultural stories with James as well as receiving their never to be forgotten hospitality during his visit.
